

bringing students together

inSight is an interactive device designed to be built into the homes of students, to encourage and facilitate cooperative living.

Living with others can be hard. inSight provides a way to convey your feelings and thoughts to the rest of your household in a easy to use, non-intrusive way. Students from all walks of life were involved throughout inSight's whole design process, ensuring your best interests are at heart.

contact us

studentinsight.co.uk

insight@gold.ac.uk

(+44) 1234 5678

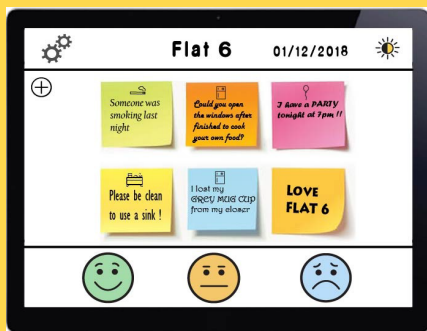

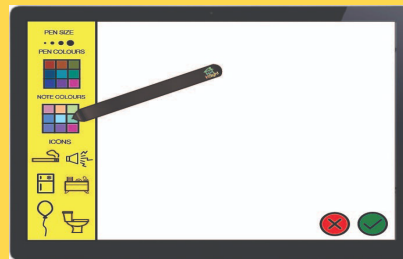

“inSight has really helped me to communicate with my flatmates in halls without feeling anxious” - Tom features

sticky notes

write notes for the household and customize with icons and colours mood buttons

convey how you're feeling with happy, neutral & sad faces gradient background

the background colour changes in response to the mood of the household customisable

colour and text settings holiday themes

how to use

wave at the sensor to turn on your device press the plus icon to add a new note use the digital pen to navigate the screen tap the sun to change the screen brightness press the mood faces to express how you feel select the cog to edit the colour and sound